

Rules & Expectations

Strict rules do not alienate children.

They may complain about rules, but rules show that you care.

Discuss the rules and consequences of breaking them.

NEVER use empty threats. Follow through on consequences.

Your child wants to go to a party.

Are parents going to be there?

Who is going to the party? What friends?

Your kids may think you don't trust them. Tough.

You'll take them AND pick them up.
Have your child call you in the middle of the party.
